If indeed America is the great melting pot of nations, its music—country music—is no less representative of the ethnic influences which fostered it. From Europe came balladry, accompanied by fiddle, accordion and guitar. From Africa came the banjo and call-and-response chanting which preceded black American blues music. By the early 1900s, traditional string bands were emerging from the cradle of American music, the Appalachian Mountains of the Southeast. With the advent of radio and recording in the 1920s, talent scouts searched the backwoods for traditional artists.

One such scout, Ralph Peer, discovered both the Carter Family and Jimmie Rodgers, the "Singing Brakeman," at a 1927 audition in Bristol, Tenn. The Carters became founding figures of traditional folk music with songs like "Wildwood Flower" and "Will The Circle Be Unbroken?" Rodgers became country music's first star with his blue yodel style and an amazing string of instant classics like "Muleskinner Blues" and "Peach Pickin' Time In Georgia."

The Depression Years fostered musical experimentation. In the Southwest, country dancebands like Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys started incorporating Big Band city sounds into their music. The result: Western Swing. Hollywood, too, was afire with songs of the prairies; Gene Autry was the first of a stampede of Singing Cowboys to burst upon the movie screen. Songs like "Yellow Rose of Texas" and "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" were standards of the era.

The War Years ushered in an era of reality and honky-tonk songs became the vogue. Successors to the Rodgers throne made their names with these—Ernest Tubb with "I'm Walking the Floor Over You," Roy Acuff with more traditional-inspired tunes like "The Great Speckled Bird" and "Wreck On The Highway," and later Hank Snow with "I'm Movin' On." But the next star of country music, the father of modern country, appeared at the end of World War II. Hank Williams wrote and recorded the definitive country repertoire during his brief six year career—classics like "Why Don't You Love Me?," "Cold, Cold Heart" and "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry."

By the mid-1950s, rock and roll was emerging as the new music, and young country singers were experimenting with combining the two styles, calling it rockabilly. From this merger came Elvis Presley with "Heart-break Hotel" and "Don't Be Cruel." His career would veer away from country, but other rockabilly performers, artists like Johnny Cash and Conway Twitty, would stay close to Country and become leaders in their later years.

Country was merging with popular music, too, and performers like Sonny James ("Young Love"), Marty Robbins ("El Paso," "White Sport Coat") and the Everly Brothers ("Wake Up, Little Susie") were meeting with enormous success. Nashville, fearful that new styles would force the end to traditional country altogether, fought back with the Nashville Sound, a compromise between country, pop and rock. It has become the dominant style of country today.

The 1960s saw the emergence of women in country, and fine singer-songwriters like Loretta Lynn and Tammy Wynette have become as popular as the traditionally-dominant male performers today. Country music today knows more variety and a greater stable of talented stars than ever, and shows no signs (as it did a couple decades ago) of going anywhere but up.

HALL OF FAME

Baseball has Cooperstown, N.Y. Basketball has Springfield, Mass. Football has Canton, Ohio. And the stars of country music, the men and women who contributed greatly to the growth and development of America's original music, are enshrined in the Country Music Hall of Fame in Nashville, Tenn. Since 1961, 25 country greats have been honored by a panel of 250 electors who choose inductees from those who have been active in the country music community for over 10 years. The current members are listed in the following pages.

JIMMIE RODGERS

Sept. 8, 1897 - May 26, 1933

"The Singing Brakeman" . . . Jimmie Rodgers' name stands foremost in the country music field as the "man who started it all." His songs told the great stories of the singing rails, the powerful steam locomotives and the wonderful railroad people that he loved so well. Although small in stature, he was a giant among men, starting a trend in the musical taste of millions.

(Elected 1961)

FRED ROSE

Aug. 24, 1897 - Dec. 1, 1954

Songwriter, music publisher . . . Fred Rose was always ready to lend a helping hand to a young artist or a new songwriter. His guidance helped many to stardom. The songs he wrote show the touch of simplicity and genius, and remain with us even today, proving him to be one of America's truly great composers.

(Elected 1961)

HANK WILLIAMS

Sept. 17, 1923 - Jan. 1, 1953

Performing artist, songwriter ... Hank Williams will live on in the memories of millions of Americans. The simple, beautiful melodies and straightforward, plaintive stories in his lyrics, of life as he knew it, will never die. His songs appealed not only to the country music field, but brought him great acclaim in the "pop" music world as well. (Elected 1961)

ROY ACUFF

Sept. 15, 1903

"The Smoky Mountain Boy" ... "Fiddled" and sang his way into the hearts of millions the world over, often times bringing country music to areas where it had never been before. "The King of Country Music"—has carried his troupe of performers overseas to entertain his country's armed forces at Christmas for more than 20 years. Many successful artists credit their success to a helping hand and encouraging word from Roy Acuff.

(Elected 1961)

TEX RITTER

Jan. 12, 1907 - Jan. 2, 1974

Born in Panola County, Texas ... Alumnus University of Texas. One of America's most illustrious and versatile stars of radio, television, records, motion pictures and Broadway stage. Untiring pioneer and champion of the country and western music industry. His devotion to his God, his family and his country is a continuing inspiration to his countless friends throughout the world.

(Elected 1964)

ERNEST TUBB

Feb. 9, 1914

"The Texas Troubadour," that tall man with the distinctive voice and style, who became a giant among the early performers of country and western music, and whose career has never diminished with the succeeding years. To his millions of fans, he has become a legend. Their love is boundless. To the fledgling artist, songwriter or friend, his hand and his help have always been extended. Their gratitude is universal.

(Elected 1965)

EDDY ARNOLD

May 15, 1918

Born near Henderson, Tenn., Eddy Arnold first gained widespread recognition in 1946. After a humble beginning, he rose to great heights as a performer and as a recording artist, selling millions of records. He has been a powerful influence in setting musical tastes. His singing, warm personality and infectious laugh have endeared Eddy to friends and fans everywhere.

(Elected 1966)

JAMES R. DENNY

Feb. 28, 1911 - Aug. 27, 1963

Jim Denny was a vital person behind the scene in country music for many years. Being a leader in the publishing, management and broadcasting fields, he served to promote, protect and encourage some of the most important artists in the industry. His contribution to country music is widely recognized, and his untimely death was a tragic loss to us all.

(Elected 1966)

GEORGE D. HAY

Nov. 9, 1895 - May 8, 1968

"The Solemn Old Judge." A Memphis newspaperman turned radio announcer, George D. Hay carried his love of country music to radio—first in Chicago and then Nashville, as the man who originated the Grand Ole Opry. He appeared as master of ceremonies for nearly 30 years on the Opry until his retirement and was instrumental in furthering the careers of hundreds of performers.

(elected 1966)

UNCLE DAVE MACON
Oct. 7, 1870 - March 22, 1952

"The Dixie Dewdrop," from Smart Station, Tennessee, was a man whose delightful sense of humor and sterling character endeared him to millions. A professional performer on the Grand Ole Opry for 26 years, he was a "Minstrel of the Countryside" prior to that. He was a country man who loved humanity and enjoyed helping others. A proficient banjoist, he was a singer of old-time ballads and was, during his time, the most popular country music artist in America. (Elected 1966)

RED FOLEY
June 17, 1910 - Sept. 19, 1968

Star of the "National Barn Dance," "Grand Ole Opry," and "Ozark Jubilee." One of the most versatile and moving performers of all time. He could make you pop your fingers to "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy" ... choke back a tear with "Old Shep" ... or look to your God with "Peace in the Valley." A giant influence during the formative years of contemporary country music and today a timeless legend. (Elected 1967)

J.L. (JOE) FRANK
Apr. 15, 1900 - May 4, 1952

Pioneer promoter of country and western shows. His method of combining broadcasting and personal appearances moved country entertainers from rural schoolhouses into city auditoriums and coliseums. Inspired and helped to develop the careers of Roy Acuff, Gene Autry, Eddy Arnold, Pee Wee King, Minnie Pearl, Ernest Tubb, and many more. (Elected 1967)

JIM REEVES
Aug. 20, 1924 - July 31, 1964

The velvet style of "Gentleman" Jim Reeves won an international influence. His rich voice brought millions of new fans to country music from every corner of the world. Although the crash of his private airplane in 1964 took his life, posterity will keep his name alive ... because they (the public) will remember him as one of country music's most important performers. (Elected 1967)

STEPHEN H. SHOLES
Feb. 12, 1911 - April 22, 1968

Record company executive and giant influence toward making country music an integral part of cultural America. With great foresight he established the first permanent residence of a major recording company in Nashville. Discovered many record stars including Eddy Arnold, Chet Atkins, Jim Reeves. Served as chairman of CMA board. (Elected 1967)

BOB WILLIS

March 6, 1905 - May 13, 1975

Grandson and son of champion fiddlers, he quickly established himself king of western swing. His famous trademark, "Ahh ha, take it away, Leon." Entered radio with Light Crust Doughboys in '29. Formed Texas Playboys in the 30's. Wrote and recorded "San Antonio Rose." Appeared in 26 Hollywood pictures. A living legend whose roadmap has charted new pathways into the world of American stage, radio, TV, records and movies.

(Elected 1968)

GENE AUTRY

Sept. 29, 1907

America's great singing cowboy paved the way for others with his western songs on radio and in the movies, where he set box office records. He was among the first country and western performers to win worldwide acclaim. Born a cowboy, he overcame every adversity to move to the top of his field, always lending dignity to the industry. Best known as an artist and actor, he also was an accomplished writer. (Elected 1969)

BILL MONROE

The "Father of Bluegrass," Bill Monroe developed and perfected this music form, and taught it to many great names in the industry. Even-tempered and a possessor of spiritual values, this direct descendant of the fifth president of the United States is a composer and recording artist. He helped stimulate interest in this form of down-to-earth music in colleges long after its initial popularity.

ORIGINAL CARTER FAMILY

A.P. Carter, Dec. 15, 1891 - Nov. 7, 1960; Maybelle Carter, May 10, 1909; Sara Carter, July 21, 1899. Bristol, Tenn. For two decades they performed as an unbeatable team. Their songs became country standards, and some of A.P.'s original compositions are among the all-time greats. They are regarded by many as the epitome of country greatness and originators of a much copied style. (Elected 1970)

ARTHUR EDWARD SATHERLY

Oct. 19, 1899

Born in Bristol, England, "Uncle Art" was steeped in the traditions of Anglo-Celtic folk art. His early work with Thomas A. Edison qualified him as an expert in the fledgling American recording industry. As a talent scout, he produced such greats as Gene Autry, Bob Wills, Roy Acuff and Molly O'Day. Retired since 1953, Satherly was a pioneer record man, contributing greatly to the world-wide growth of country music.

(Elected 1971)

JIMMIE H. DAVIS

Sept. 11, 1902

Performing artist, songwriter, public servant ... from his roots in rural Louisiana he gained an early love of music - "The warm living songs of the cowboys and farmers and country folks." He obtained a masters degree from Louisiana State University. He twice was elected governor of his native state and is best known for his song, "You Are My Sunshine." His humility, deep-felt responsibility to his audience, and winning way with a song has brought much sunshine to gospel and country music.

(Elected 1972)

CHET ATKINS

June 20, 1924

Born Chester Burton Atkins in Tennessee, he is the epitome of success—from an Appalachian farm boy to international acclaim as musician, composer, arranger, producer, executive and sportsman. Long hours with his guitar resulted in a distinctive style—much copied, but unduplicated. A musician's musician, a gentleman's gentleman, his helping hand is ready to boost struggling unknowns and those less fortunate. Teacher, innovator, humanitarian, this guitarist's excellence stands a challenge for generations to come.

(Elected 1973)

PATSY CLINE

Sept. 8, 1932 - March 5, 1963

Born Virginia Patterson Hensley in Virginia, Patsy will live on in country music history as one of its outstanding vocalists. Tragically, her career was cut short in its prime when she was killed in a plane crash. Her heritage of recordings is testimony to her artistic capacity. Her highest hit, "I Fall To Pieces," has become a standard. She was catapulted to fame by an Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts appearance in 1957 and joined the Grand Ole Opry in 1960, realizing a lifelong ambition.

(Elected 1974)

OWEN BRADLEY

Oct. 21, 1915

Renowned as pianist and Nashville bandleader, revered as a music executive, he achieved national recognition in his roles as head of the Nashville office of Decca (now MCA) records and producer for such artists as Ernest Tubb, Red Foley, Patsy Cline, Brenda Lee and Loretta Lynn. His honesty and integrity in business affairs secured the respect of his associates and his influence encouraged the establishment of Nashville recording studios and spurred the development of the "Music Row" area.

FRANK "PEE WEE" KING

Feb. 18, 1914

Wisconsinite, accordionist, bandleader, acclaimed for his recordings and movie appearances, Pee Wee King was a nationally recognized singer. He co-wrote "Bonaparte's Retreat," "Slow Poke," "Tennessee Waltz" and others. He earned gold records and was successful as a music publisher, promoter and manager. He has been applauded for his assistance to other artists who have become significant country music performers. (Elected 1974)

MINNIE PEARL

Oct. 25, 1912

Humor is the least recorded, but certainly one of the most important aspects of live country music. No one exemplifies the values of pure country comedy more than Minnie Pearl. Born Sarah Ophelia Colley, Centerville, Tenn. Educated at fashionable Ward-Belmont College. Joined the Grand Ole Opry in 1940. Her trademarks—the dimestore hat with dangling price tag and shrill 'How-Dee! I'm just so proud to be here'—made her the first country humorist to be known and loved worldwide. (Elected 1975)

KITTY WELLS

Aug. 30, 1919

Born Murial Deason in Nashville, her stage name was inspired by the folk song 'Kitty Wells.' She began as a radio performer in 1936 and as a recording artist in 1949. In true country music tradition, her sincere vocal stylings convey the real feeling of song, be they happy or sad. Her million seller, "It Wasn't God Who Made Honky Tonk Angels" was the first of many award-winning hits resulting in her being acclaimed "Queen of Country Music." (Elected 1976)

PAUL COHEN

Nov. 10, 1908 - Apr. 1, 1971

Selling records and scouting talent in the Midwest and New York during his long association with Decca Records, Paul Cohen was the first to recognize the potential of Nashville as a recording center. The disc careers of Patsy Cline, Red Foley, Webb Pierce, Red Sovine, Ernest Tubb, Kitty Wells and others were the result of his vision; also producer Owen Bradley, who gratefully acknowledges that "Paul was my teacher." He was president of the Country Music Association the year the Hall of Fame was dedicated. (Elected 1976)
